

Relax, unwind and refocus your mind

YOU ARE SMARTER THAN YOU THINK

Instead of colouring this month, I have uploaded a fun little creative exercise for you. The purpose of the exercise is to illustrate that you are far more capable than you might think.

To complete the task you need to copy the lines in the individual squares onto the corresponding numbered and lettered square blank grid. Focus on one step at a time and don't try to second guess the next step.

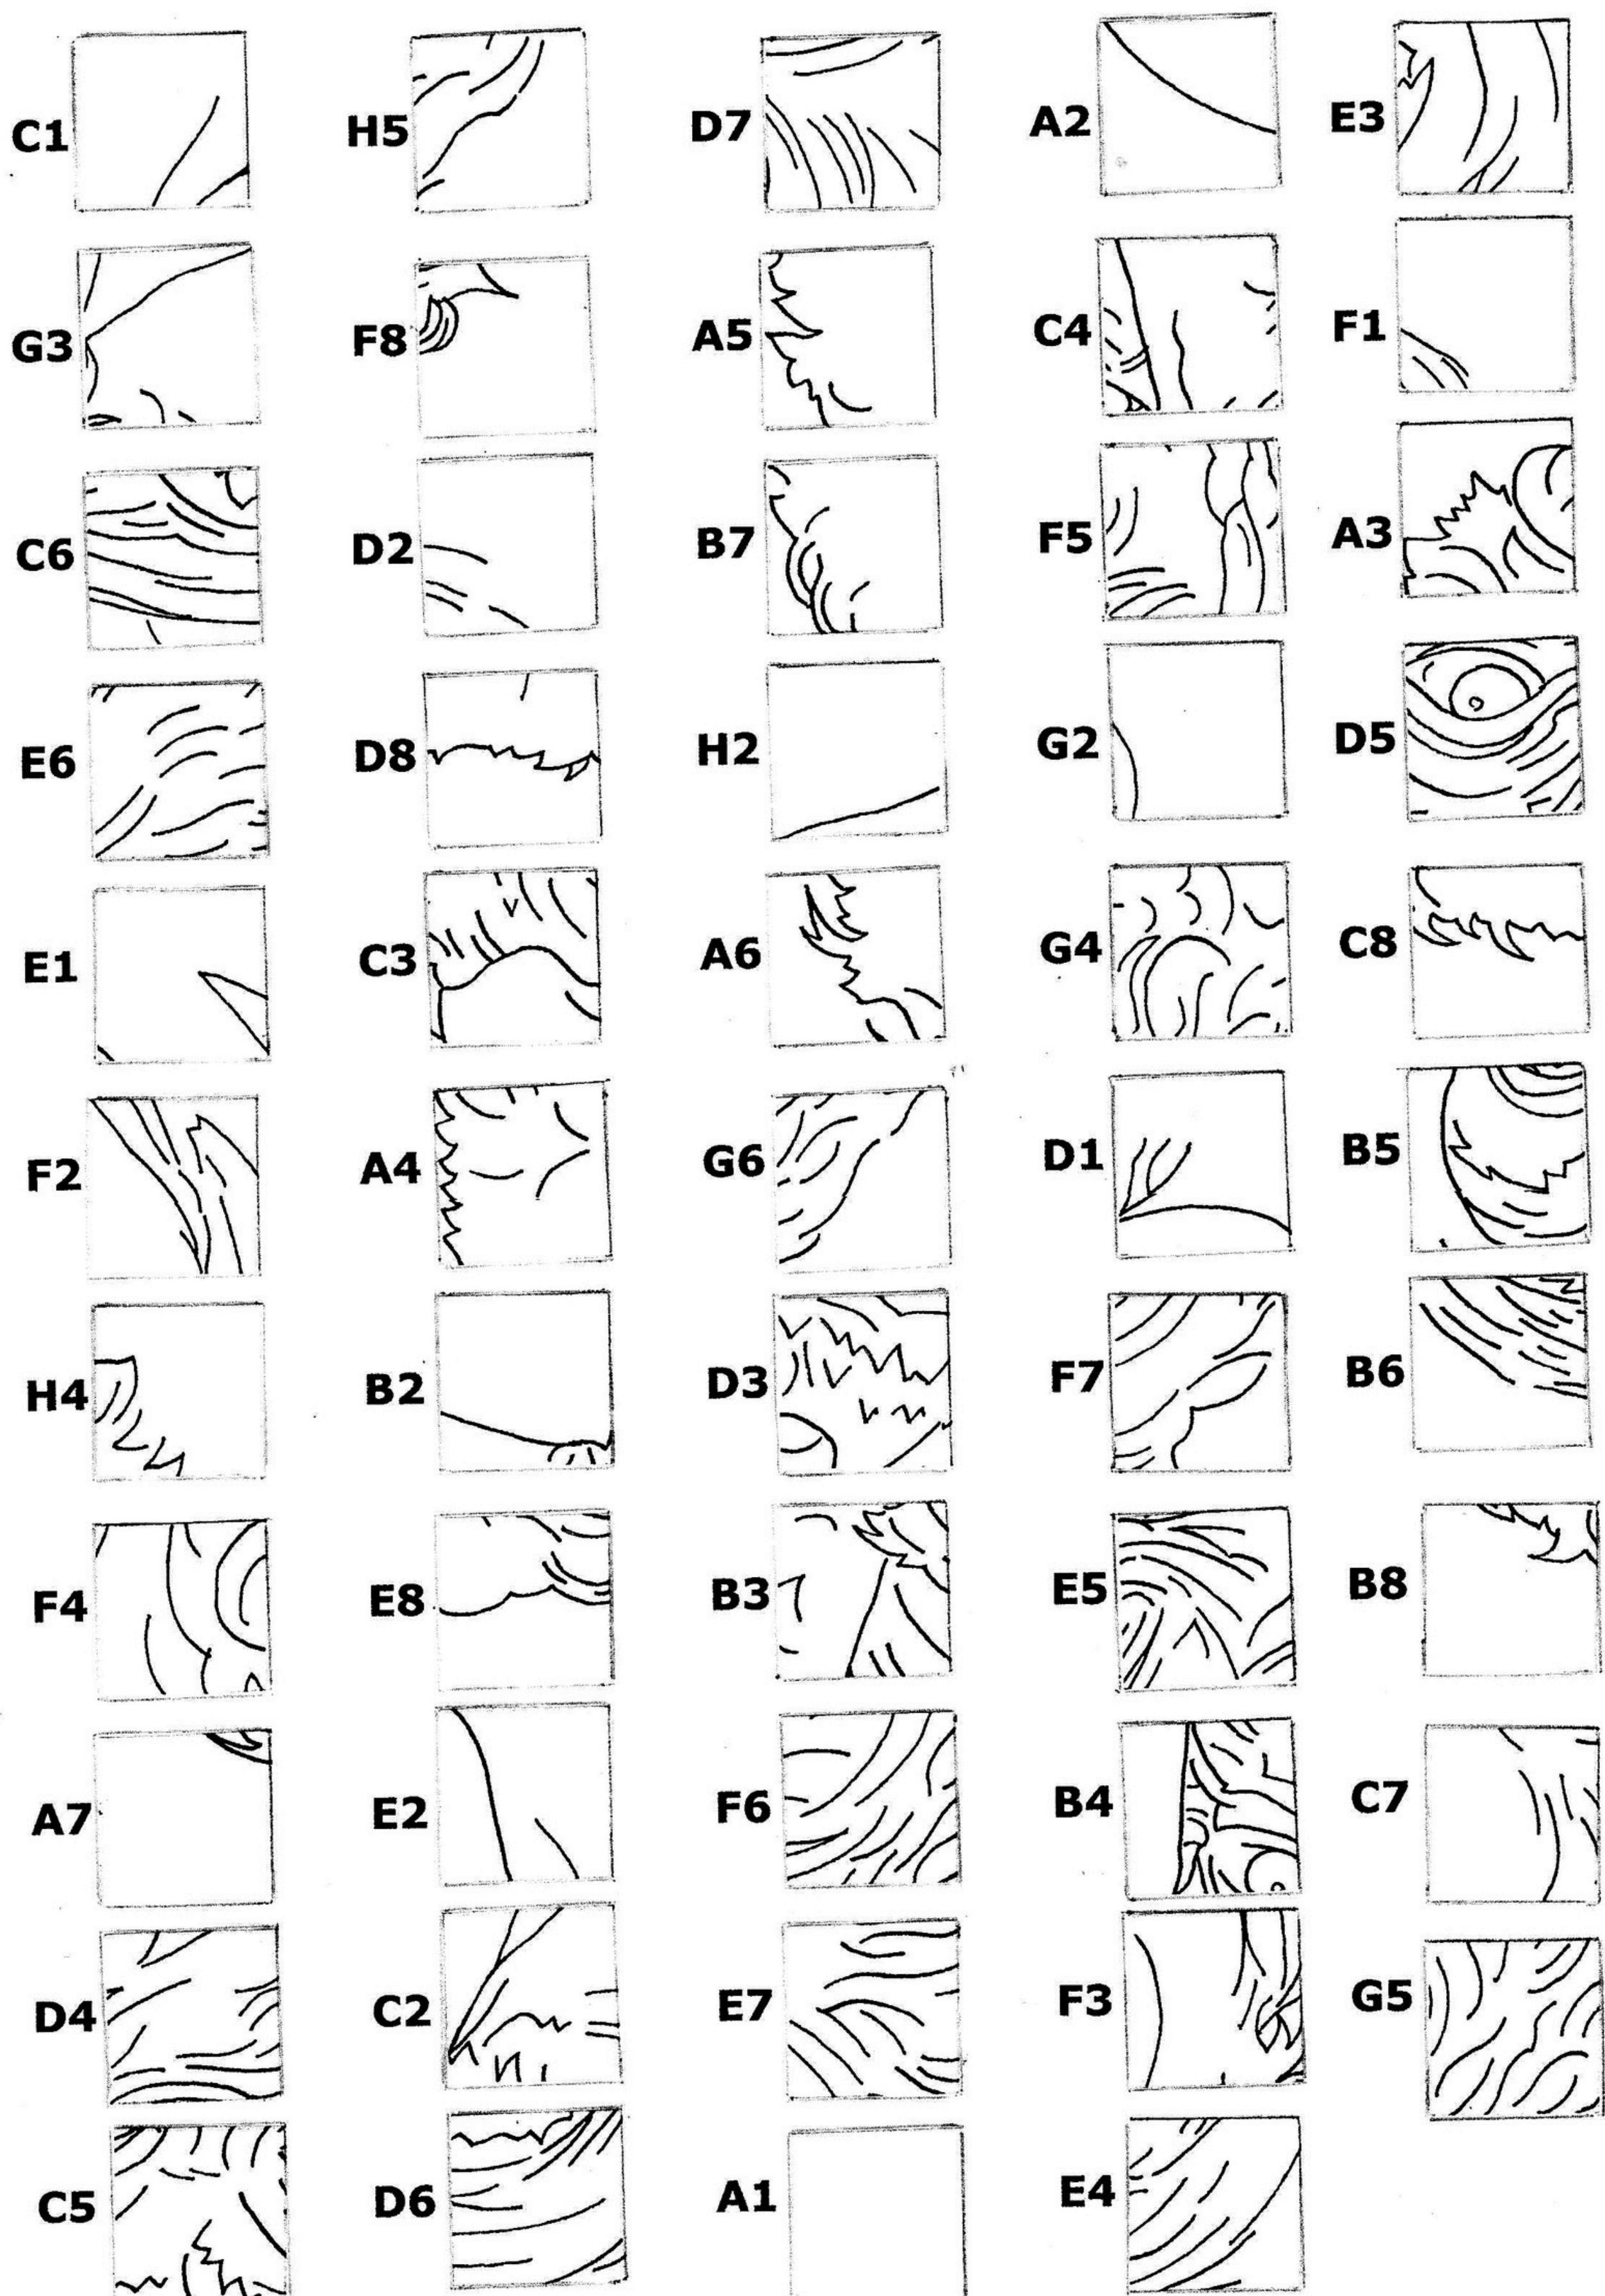

This may be a familiar childhood puzzle for some of you, while for others it may be a completely new idea.

However, you are to draw the lines with your non-dominant hand only. So if you are right handed, draw it with your left hand. Cross through the lined squares after you've copied them so you know where you are.

Imagination is more important than knowledge and creative play is more memorable than reading alone.

I hope you enjoy the task and will go on to read the accompanying teaching notes and watch the creative video after to inspire your own creative imagination. Have fun!
